Happy Howloween!

Have a wonderful, fun and safe Halloween night! Here is an adorable picture of Jurnee Carr and her sweet pup Java. She is dressed as a Pumpkin Spice CHI Latte! So cute, Jurnee! Want to share a photo of your fur baby in costume? Add to the comments in our Facebook group here! Also, please remember to keep pets safe indoors tonight!

Eating Mercifully Screening, CT

Julia Johnson held an Eating Mercifully screening last week at Trinity on the Green Church in New Haven, CT. She said the audience was so receptive that they want to show the film again during coffee hour so more people know about it. Amazing job showing the film and displaying information, Julia! Thank you!

Thank You for the Calls!

Thank you to Cathleen Hothersall, Dara Wedel and Faye Thompson this week for making calls for Massachusetts ballot question #3 for farm animals! Are you in the area and want to help at the polls? Click here!: yeson3.com/polls.

Tabling

Rose Tingle tabled for HSUS Faith Outreach at the Cat Club's fall boutique fundraiser this past weekend. She raffled off the Every Living Thing book for those who submitted their contact information! Thank you for sharing the information, offering the book and getting contact information for folks interested, Rose! Amazing!

Fill the Bowl

Lynne Haberfield and Church of the Nativity in Grand Junction CO, just completed their St. Francis Fill the Bowl pet food and supply drive! This is such a great example of how Saint is such a great example of how Saint Francis doesn't have to be celebrated only one day a year. We can bless animals year round! Thank you, Lynne!

Eating Mercifully Screening, CA

Kathleen Kastner organized and hosted an Eating Mercifully screening last night in Encinitas, CA, through the Vegan Spirituality Meetup at a restaurant which was open for all. They had a good discussion following the screening and enjoyed discounted vegan food the restaurant offered. She is already planning her next screening of At the Fork! Amazing job, Kathleen!

Classroom Presentations

I had the privilege of speaking to several classrooms at California Lutheran University this week about faith and food choices. The students were so receptive and asked some great questions about how they can get involved. The campus has just launched a Mindful Monday program as well in the cafeteria! If you want to speak to classrooms or encourage school cafeteria's to give their menu a lift, let us know!

NO on 777

Oklahoma's SQ 777 wasn't proposed by farmers or ranchers -- it's backed by corporate interests and Big Ag and is designed to give them free reign. Please join us in voting NO on 777's 'right to harm' and sharing with your friends to do the same.

NY Gala Volunteer Opportunity!

The events team is looking for NY volunteers for the upcoming "To the Rescue" Gala and After-Party Nov 18 in NYC! The shift is 4:30 pm to midnight, food will be provided and volunteers must wear formal attire. Some examples of roles include registration, handing out gift bags, break down and more. Interested? Click on this link to apply!
