2017 HSUS State Humane Lobby Days have begun! Here is a photo of Faith Outreach Volunteer Jurnee Carr from Tennessee's HLD! Jurnee has been working tirelessly on the Puppy Mill Bill and here she stands with Sponsor of the bill, Senator Jon Lundberg and Nash, the most photogenic dog I think I've ever seen! Absolutely incredible job, Jurnee!

Speaking of Humane Lobby Days, if you attend any events for animals this year, make it this one! Find out when your state is having theirs here. You can also reply to this email to ask us or your State Director. You don't want to miss it!

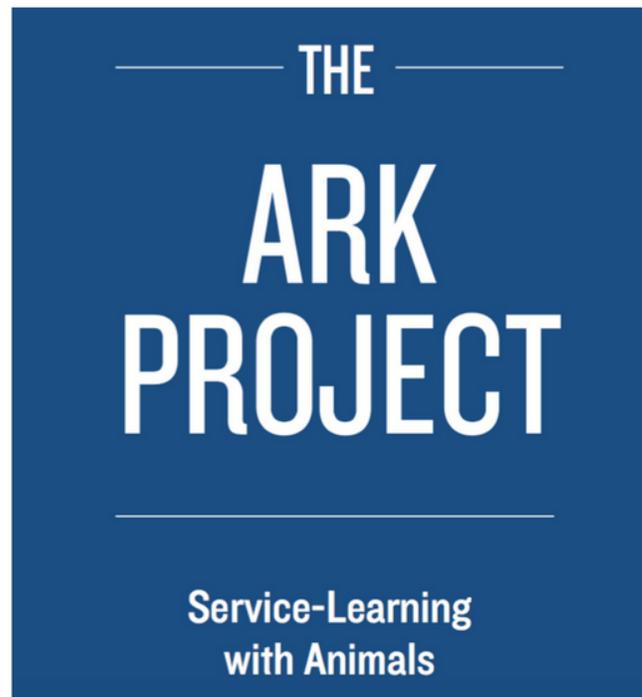

New Year, (Re)new Eden Blog

Angela Daun in CA just launched her Edenist blog and it's lovely! In it she shares how "We are to be like our just, kind, compassionate and merciful Creator when we reign and govern over the animal kingdom and nature. From cruelty-free cooking, nutrition and recipes to vegan fashion and beauty, highlighting inspiring leaders and change makers, getting in touch with nature through travel and adventure to spiritual insight and even science based arguments, The Edenist is a guide on how to bring heaven to earth and live like you never left The Garden!" If you haven't checked out our MN Faith Volunteer Leader Kathy Dunn's blog Shepherding All God's Creatures, do so when you can! She puts in so much work to this page to offer thoughtful and informative blog posts, helpful resources, prayer lists and groups, information on hosting animal blessings, favorite scriptures and quotes and more! Thank you, Kathy!

Calling all Jewish parents, educators, and clergy!

Jewish Initiative for Animals is thrilled to announce the launch of a groundbreaking new program for b'nai mitzvah students: The Ark Project, a Jewish service-learning curriculum for students who care about animals. The Ark Project allows individual students and groups of students to connect their love for animals to Jewish values by designing their own service-learning project focused entirely on animal welfare. HSUS 301 Special!

We are excited to offer you our online, self-paced training course titled, “The Role of The HSUS in the Animal Protection Movement” (Aka: HSUS 301) free of charge for those of you interested! This course provides information on The HSUS’s history, mission, and programs, as well as effective ways to respond to misconceptions about The HSUS’s work. It gets rave reviews from our volunteers! It takes most people 8-15 hours to complete the full course. For those interested, just reply to this email for more information!

Welcome aboard to our new allies! Know people of faith who care about animals? Try sharing this information with five friends this week!

In the Kitchen

Try this yummy veggie-noodle dish this week from our Meatless Monday recipe list, which can be celebrated any (or every) day! Pesto Fettuccine Recipe

I'd love to hear from you! Please let me know what you're working on and how

I can help! Have a blessed week!
